

OUR DOCTORS

Dr Terrance Tan

M.B., B.S., FRACP, PH.D

Gastroenterologist

Dr Terrance Tan joined us back in 2014 and has become an integral member of the Montserrat Day Hospital team. Terrance has procedure and consultation lists from our Indooroopilly hospital as well as from rooms at Ipswich.

Terrance graduated from the University of NSW in Sydney with a Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery. He then went on to further training in Gastroenterology & Hepatology in Perth, where he explored his interest in patients with chronic hepatobiliary disorders and liver failure, as well as aiding with the teaching of younger physicians. He was awarded a fellowship from the FRACP in 2008 and then completed his doctorate (PhD) at the University of Queensland. Terrance has also been working as a staff specialist at the Princess Alexandra Hospital and is continuing research in his field.

Dr Tan's special interests include:

- Chronic hepatobiliary disorders
- Liver disease and issues

Languages: English and Malaysian
